WEDDING HAIR PLAN

12 Months from your wedding date

1. Book your hair stylist for your wedding day. Ensure you read all terms and conditions.
2. Book a hair trial so you can try to coordinate with a function you are going to if you wish. Recommended 1-2 months out from your wedding day.
3. Look at booking colour appointments to coordinate with events and wedding day. Count back from a week prior to your day then every 6-8 weeks per appointment. Look at 12 months of appointments if you are looking for colour change and 6 months of appointments if maintaining colour and minimal adjustments.
4. Start a Pinterest board of inspiration. Look at what you like and don't like as well as styles for yourself and bridesmaid.

WEDDING HAIR PLAN

6 Months from your wedding date

1. Book a trial at least one-two months prior to your special day to get the time you want. Consider having it one to two months prior to the wedding as hair is close to the length it will be.
(If you need a Saturday trial I would book this 12 months in advance)
2. Confirm numbers for hair and make up for the day with your stylist.
3. Make sure all your hair colour appointments are booked.
4. Ensure you are using appropriate salon quality hair care to have your hair in the optimum condition. Look at shampoo, conditioner, treatment and leave in moisturiser as your must haves. If you are using irons or blow drying regularly also consider a heat protectant.
5. Do weekly treatments leading up to your trial and wedding day. This will close the cuticle (outside layer of the hair) and make your hair shiney and easier to manage. If you are worried treatments are too heavy talk with your stylist.

6. Attend your trial- Wash your hair the day prior to the trial so it can settle with some natural oil but not be too dirty. Your stylist will then prepare the using specific products so do limit fuzziness. A trial is normally one style with variations (plenty of variations if needed) made to it. If you would like to try more than one style it may cost more but that is always specified.

7. If your looking to have hair extensions talk to your stylist. I recommend clip in extensions as they are less maintenance and when we do wedding hair we can position them where we need them on the day. You don't always need a full set either. You do need to look at colours and colour match around two months prior to ensure they arrive and if required a colour can be done easily.

WEDDING HAIR PLAN

1 Month from your wedding date

1. Confirm start times for hair and make up.
2. Ensure final payments have been made to your stylist.
3. Attend final colour appointment one week prior.
4. Prepare your hair the night before—Wash your hair the day prior to the day so it can settle with some natural oil but not be too dirty. I will then prepare the hair using specific products so to limit fuzziness and give fullness to the hair.
5. Ensure all your bridesmaids and guests know how to prepare their hair and what time to arrive in the morning.
